If you are interested in watching baby storks be hatched, there are many live web cameras aimed at stork nests. Go to this web page and check them out:

Teachers please read: At lunch time, starting today (2/8) you will not be able to eat outside the 2 Front office doors and the area right outside the Library. You know the areas we are talking about. The amount of garbage that is left each day is disturbing! We will be patrolling these areas and making sure you are not eating there until we can make the campus cleaner. Please help us and yourself make our campus clean.
